SALT
WATER

Kaya!

Welcome to Undalup, home of the Wadandi Saltwater People.

The City of Busselton and the Busselton Cultural Precinct acknowledges the Traditional Owners, the Wadandi People, their deep connection to the land and their artistic and cultural expressions.

We acknowledge that Saltwater and the Busselton Cultural Precinct resides on Noongar Boodja (Country) as a place where we bring community together, share art, culture and welcome creativity.

We are privileged to gather on this Country in Undalup and are grateful to the Wadandi community who continue to share knowledge and wisdom with us.

We pay our respects to our ancestors, for bringing us here together, and to our Elders and emerging leaders carrying the cultural flame.

Welcome to Busselton / Undalup

Renowned as the Events Capital of Western Australia, Busselton is a flourishing coastal destination in the magnificent Margaret River Wine Region.

Blessed with an enviable Mediterranean climate, our summers are typically dry and sunny, with temperatures ranging from warm to hot.

Abundant sunshine during the warmer months provides opportunities for delegates to take a break from business to explore the region's pristine coastline and picture-perfect landscapes.

During the cooler months, delegates may wish to taste wine in cosy cellar doors, explore temperate underground caves or visit art galleries.

Geographe Bay

Located on the sheltered shores of Geographe Bay, Busselton's calm north-facing beaches are perfect for aquatic activities such as swimming, sailing, boating, snorkelling, scuba diving, stand-up paddle boarding and kayaking.

During spring, humpback whales make an almighty splash in Geographe Bay!

Cruises departing from Busselton and Dunsborough offer excellent opportunities for close encounters with these majestic gentle giants.

Busselton Jetty

Stretching 1.841km out to sea, the heritage-listed Busselton Jetty offers many ways to immerse yourself in the magnificent marine environment it's built upon.

Stroll along the longest timber-piled jetty in the Southern Hemisphere to see dolphins cruising, sea birds nesting, kids jumping into the turquoise water below and local fisherman catching their supper.

Walk the length of the jetty or ride the solar-powered Jetty Train to the Underwater Observatory near the end, before descending to the ocean floor to marvel at over 300 species of colourful marine life surrounding this viewing chamber.

Surf's Up

In contrast to the calm beaches of Geographe Bay, just a short drive south of Busselton you'll encounter the legendary big-wave beaches of Yallingup and Margaret River.

Margaret River's Surfers Point features a lookout offering 180-degree views of the world-class waves crashing below.

Cape to Cape Track

If you'd rather explore this spectacular coastline on foot, lace up your hiking boots and discover the secluded bays, dramatic cliffs and scenic lookouts of the Cape to Cape Track, which spans the entire stretch of coastline between the Cape Naturaliste and Cape Leeuwin.

On this 135-km trek, hikers are guaranteed to encounter many different species of rare flora and fauna.

There are a number of award-winning tour operators offering guided walking tours of sections of this spectacular track, which is one of the Great Walks of Australia.

Heritage-listed Lighthouses

At each end of the Cape to Cape Track, stands a lighthouse... One tall and one small; equally important beacons built over 120 years ago to safely guide seafarers through this treacherous coastline.

Standing sentry on the rocky peninsula where the Southern and Indian Oceans meet, the Cape Leeuwin Lighthouse is 39 metres tall and offers an exhilarating bird's eye view of the rugged coastline below.

At the northern end of the Leeuwin-Naturaliste Ridge, the 20-metre-tall Cape Naturaliste Lighthouse stands on a high bluff 123 metres above sea level.

Visitors are invited to climb to the top of these historic lighthouses, take in the panoramic coastal views and learn about the region's rich maritime history.

Tall Trees & Tiny Wildflowers

You don't need to travel far to find untouched stands of tuart, karri, marri, jarrah and peppermint forests with fabulous trails for hiking and mountain biking adventures.

The largest stand of tuart trees in the world can be found at the northern entrance to Busselton, whereas further south you'll find towering karri trees in the breathtakingly beautiful Boranup Forest.

Gaze up into the heights of these grandiose stands of trees, but be sure to look down at the forest floor as well... With an abundance of endemic species of flora including rare, ornate orchids and many other colourful wildflowers, this is one of just 34 internationally recognised biodiversity hotspots.

Throughout the region, mature peppermint trees are home to critically endangered Western Ringtail Possums and many other species of fauna.

The high ropes course at Forest Adventures offers both an adrenaline rush and an exquisite bird's eye view of the majestic Ludlow Tuart Forest, as thrill-seekers climb trees and soar between them on a series of exhilarating flying foxes.

Visitors are invited to delve into ornately decorated depths of some of the region's spectacular limestone caves.

The nearest show cave to Saltwater, is Yallingup's Ngilgi Cave, which is majestically adorned with ancient, awe-inspiring formations.
